

Mar 15 Winds in the Frazier Basin zone were stronger than expected with moderate to strong gusts at the ridge, increasing through the day. We noticed two large windslab pockets that had released since yesterday's snow. One at the base of Hardscrabble Peak on a N aspect, the other in one of the SE facing gullies that access the Peak 9299/Hollywood Headwall ridge (see photo).

Advisory Region
Bridger Range
Longitude

-110.98W

Latitude

45.92N

Avalanche Details: Wind Slabs in Frazier Basin

Bridger Range, 2025-03-15