

On May 3 We were above the entrance to Exit Chute and triggered a slough slide that slid down one of the gullies that emptied into PK bowl. It appears to have followed an existing slide path, terminating in the top of what looked to be a significant existing avalanche runout. The slide looks pretty wide but not deep.

Advisory Region
Bridger Range
Longitude
-110.92W

Latitude

45.82N

Avalanche Details: Skier triggered wet Slide off of The Nose

Forecast link: GNFAC Avalanche Forecast for Mon May 5, 2025

Bridger Range, 2025-05-06